ITAC maintains 113,25% anti-dumping duties on stranded wire imported from China

The International Trade Administration Commission of South Africa (ITAC) conducted a sunset review investigation of the anti-dumping duties on stranded wire imported from China.

The investigation was initiated following an application by Haggie Wire and Strand Proprietary Limited. The Commission considered that, should the anti-dumping duties expire - there was prima facie evidence that dumping of stranded wire will likely continue, leading to a recurrence of material injury to the domestic industry. The Notice of initiation of this investigation was published in Notice No. 3693 of 2025 in Government Gazette No. 53872 and all known interested parties were notified.

Stranded wire is used for roof anchor support; bridges; floor slabs; hollow-core slabs; rail; construction; wind towers; and LNG tanks.

After considering comments to essential facts letters, the Commission made a final determination that the expiry of the anti-dumping duties on the subject products originating in or imported from China would likely lead to the continuation of dumping and the continuation or recurrence of material injury, and therefore decided to recommend to the Minister of Trade, Industry and Competition that the current anti-dumping duties of 113,25% on stranded wire be maintained as per Report No. 785. The Minister approved the recommendation by the Commission.

Full details of the final determination and recommendations are on Report 785.
